Risk Factors

PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD READ THE OFFERING CIRCULAR FOR A MORE COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF RISK FACTORS RELEVANT TO A PARTICULAR INVESTMENT

- Purchasing the Notes involves certain risks. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following factors, as well as the risk factors included in the final Offering Circular, prior to purchasing the Notes. The following is not intended to be an exhaustive list of the risks involved in the Transaction.
- The final Offering Circular will include more complete descriptions of the risks described below as well as additional risks. Any decision to invest in the Notes described herein should be made after reviewing the Offering Circular, conducting such investigations as the investor deems necessary and consulting the investor's own legal, accounting and tax advisors in order to make an independent determination of the suitability and consequences of an investment in the Notes.

Leveraged Credit Exposure to Reference Entities

- Investors will have leveraged exposure to the credit of a number of Reference Entities because the notional amount of the Reference Portfolio is significantly larger than the principal amount of the Notes. Following the delivery of a Credit Event Notice by Goldman Sachs in relation to a Credit Event with respect to a Reference Entity and the satisfaction of the other Conditions to Settlement, the outstanding principal amount of the investment may be reduced. Investors in the Notes may suffer significant reductions in their outstanding principal amounts. The maximum loss for investors is the full principal amount.

No Legal or Beneficial Interest in Obligations of Reference Entities

- Participation in the Transaction does not constitute a purchase or other acquisition or assignment of any interest in any obligation of any Reference Entity. Neither the Issuer nor investors will have recourse against any Reference Entities. Neither the investors nor any other entity will have any rights to acquire from Goldman Sachs any interest in any obligation of any Reference Entity, notwithstanding any reduction in the principal of the relevant class with respect to such Reference Entity. Neither the Issuer nor any investor will have the benefit of any collateral delivered by any Reference Entity nor any right to enforce any remedies against any Reference Entity.

Tax/Regulatory Impact

- There may be a tax or regulatory impact of investing in the Notes. Goldman Sachs does not provide any opinion on these issues. Any investor should consult with its own advisors prior to investing in the Notes.

Risk Factors

Limited Liquidity of the Transaction

- There is currently no market for the Notes. There can be no assurance that a secondary market for the Notes will develop or, if a secondary market does develop, that it will provide the holder of the Notes with liquidity, or that it will continue for the life of the Notes. Moreover, the limited scope of information available to the investors regarding the Reference Entities and the nature of any Credit Event, including uncertainty as to the extent of any reduction to be applied to the notional amount of each class if a Credit Event has occurred but the amount of the relevant reduction in the notional amount has not been determined, may further affect the liquidity of the Notes. Consequently, any investor in the Notes must be prepared to hold such Notes for an indefinite period of time or until final maturity.

Mark-to-Market Risk

- Investors are exposed to considerable mark-to-market volatility following changes in any of the following: spreads of the credits in the Reference Portfolio, comparable CDO spreads, ratings migration in the reference portfolio, ratings migration of the Notes, ratings migration of the Collateral or issuers or providers thereof, and Credit Events in the Reference Portfolio (and hence reduction of subordination). These will be reflected in mark-to-market valuations which are likely to be more volatile than an equivalently rated unleveraged investment.

Credit Events may vary from Defaults

- Historical default statistics may not capture events that would trigger a Credit Event affecting the Notes. All Credit Event definitions will be defined in the final legal documents and will be governed by the 2003 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions and any amendment or supplement thereto.

Credit Ratings

- Credit ratings represent the rating agencies' opinions regarding credit quality and are not a guarantee of quality. Rating agencies attempt to evaluate the safety of principal and/or interest payments and do not evaluate the risks of fluctuations in market value. Accordingly, the credit ratings may not fully reflect the true risks of the Transaction. Also, rating agencies may fail to make timely changes in credit ratings in response to subsequent events, so that an issuer's current financial condition may be better or worse than its rating indicates.

Rating Volatility

- Rating agencies may from time to time change the ratings of the Notes (or the Reference Obligations in the Reference Portfolio) even if no losses have been incurred under the Notes due to changes in rating methodology or rating migration of the Reference Obligations in the Reference Portfolio. Due to the leveraged nature of the Transaction, the rating may be significantly more volatile than corporate debt with an equivalent credit rating.

Risk Factors

Certain conflicts of interest relating to Goldman Sachs and its Affiliates; No reliance

- Goldman Sachs does not provide investment, accounting, tax or legal advice and shall not have a fiduciary relationship with any investor. In particular, Goldman Sachs does not make any representations as to (a) the suitability of purchasing Notes, (b) the appropriate accounting treatment or possible tax consequences of the Transaction or (c) the future performance of the Transaction either in absolute terms or relative to competing investments. Potential investors should obtain their own independent accounting, tax and legal advice and should consult their own professional investment advisor to ascertain the suitability of the Transaction, including such independent investigation and analysis regarding the risks, security arrangements and cash-flows associated with the Transaction as they deem appropriate to evaluate the merits and risks of the Transaction.
- Goldman Sachs may, by virtue of its status as an underwriter, advisor or otherwise, possess or have access to non-publicly available information relating to the Reference Obligations, the Reference Entities and/or other obligations of the Reference Entities and has not undertaken, and does not intend, to disclose, such status or non-public information in connection with the Transaction. Accordingly, this presentation may not contain all information that would be material to the evaluation of the merits and risks of purchasing the Notes.
- Goldman Sachs does not make any representation, recommendation or warranty, express or implied, regarding the accuracy, adequacy, reasonableness or completeness of the information contained herein or in any further information, notice or other document which may at any time be supplied in connection with the Transaction and accepts no responsibility or liability therefore. Goldman Sachs is currently and may be from time to time in the future an active participant on both sides of the market and have long or short positions in, or buy and sell, securities, commodities, futures, options or other derivatives identical or related to those mentioned herein. Goldman Sachs may have potential conflicts of interest due to present or future relationships between Goldman Sachs and any Collateral, the issuer thereof, any Reference Entity or any obligation of any Reference Entity.
- Goldman Sachs & Co. will act as the initial purchaser for all classes of Notes, and affiliates of Goldman Sachs & Co. will act as the Protection Buyer, the Basis Swap Counterparty, the Collateral Put Provider and the Collateral Disposal Agent.

Risk Factors

Reliance on Creditworthiness of the Collateral

- The ability of the Issuer of the Notes to meet its obligations under the Notes will depend on, amongst other things, the receipt by it of payments of interest and principal from the Collateral. Consequently, investors are exposed not only to the occurrence of Credit Events in relation to any of the Reference Obligations, but also to the ability of the Collateral or the issuer or provider thereof, to perform its obligations to make payments to the Issuer of the Notes. Although at the time of purchase, such Collateral will be highly rated, there is no assurance that such rating will not be reduced or withdrawn in the future, nor is a rating a guarantee of future performance.

Creditworthiness of Goldman Sachs

- Premium payments will be required to be made by Goldman Sachs to the Issuer throughout the life of the Transaction. Consequently, investors are exposed not only to the occurrence of Credit Events in relation to any of the Reference Obligations, but also to the ability of Goldman Sachs to perform its obligations to make payments to the Issuer of the Notes, amongst other secured parties.

Historical Performance does not Predict Future Performance of Transaction

- Individual Reference Entities may not perform as indicated by historical performance for similarly rated credits. Furthermore, even if future credit performance is similar to that of historic performance for the entire market, investors must make their own determination as to whether the Reference Portfolio will reflect the experience of the universe of rated credits. The frequency of Credit Events experienced under the Notes may be higher than that of historical rates, and/or that of future rates for the market as a whole.

Projections, Forecasts and Estimates

- Any projections, forecasts and estimates contained herein are forward looking statements and are based upon certain assumptions that the Issuer considers reasonable. Projections are necessarily speculative in nature, and it can be expected that some or all of the assumptions underlying the projections will not materialize or will vary significantly from actual results. Accordingly, the projections are only estimates. Actual results may vary from the projections, and the variations may be material.

I. Transaction Overview

Transaction Overview

Executive Summary

- ABACUS 2007-AC1 is a $2 billion notional synthetic CDO (the “Transaction”) referencing a portfolio (the “Reference Portfolio”) consisting of RMBS obligations.
- ACA Management, LLC (“ACA”) will be acting as Portfolio Selection Agent in this Transaction.
- ACA currently manages 22 outstanding CDOs with underlying portfolios consisting of $15.7 billion of assets ⁽¹⁾.
- The 360 WARF target Reference Portfolio selected by ACA consists of 90 Baa2-rated mid-prime and subprime RMBS bonds issued over the past 18 months.
- The CDO tranches amortize principal using a full sequential amortization sequence, avoiding any reduction in the relative subordination of the CDO tranches.
- The CDO tranches will have a projected average life⁽²⁾ of 3.9 to 4.9 years, which is shorter than the average life of most traditional ABS CDOs executed in the current market environment.
- The CDO tranches do not bear any available funds cap risk and other related interest shortfall risks.
- Goldman Sachs’ market-leading ABACUS program currently has $5.1 billion in outstanding CLNs with strong secondary trading desk support.

Transaction Overview

The Reference Portfolio⁽¹⁾

- The Portfolio Selection Agent has selected a target granular Reference Portfolio containing 90 equally-sized (by notional amount) Reference Obligations fully disclosed to investors.
 - Each Reference Obligation is issued by a distinct issuer
 - Each Reference Obligation has an actual rating of Baa2 by Moody's.
 - Reference Portfolio WARF of 360, which represents a higher rating quality than mezzanine ABS CDOs sold in the current market environment.
 - The Reference Portfolio includes a wide cross-section of shelves and servicers
 - 30 different shelves represented, with the largest shelf (FFML) representing 10% of the Reference Portfolio
 - 24 different servicers represented, with the largest servicer (Wells Fargo) representing 29% of the Reference Portfolio
- The Reference Portfolio is static, with no substitutions, discretionary removals, notional reinvestments or discretionary trading of Reference Obligations permitted.
- The Reference Portfolio is focused on the subprime and midprime RMBS sector and will not contain any exposure to CDOs or Option ARMs.
- 4.2-year projected Reference Portfolio weighted average life.

ACA Sponsorship

- ABACUS 2007-AC1 will be the 25th CDO sponsored by ACA and the 5th utilizing synthetic RMBS.
- ACA will earn portfolio selection fees accrued on the principal amount of the Notes, and not on the super senior tranche or the first loss tranche
- The portfolio selection fee rate for each tranche is set forth under “Structure Overview–Capital Structure”.
 - Portfolio selection fee rates are higher on the lower-rated Notes.
 - The upward-sloping fee structure increases ACA’s incentives to avoid losses relative to a standard flat fee accrued on the overall reference portfolio notional amount.

III. Structure Overview

Credit-Linked Note Structure

Structural Diagram

Credit-Linked Note Structure¹

Issuance and Use of Proceeds

- ABACUS 2007-AC1, Ltd. (the “Issuer”) a Cayman Islands SPV, will issue the Notes on the closing date.
- Goldman Sachs will not be paid any structuring, underwriting or placement fees by the Issuer.
- The proceeds of the issuance of the Notes will be invested in senior, floating-rate, triple-A structured product securities (the “Collateral Securities”).
 - Collateral Securities will be selected by Goldman Sachs, subject to the limitations set forth in the Offering Circular.
 - Any proceeds not invested in Collateral Securities on or after the closing date will be held in cash or cash equivalents (“Eligible Investments”) pending investment in eligible Collateral Securities.
 - There will be no trading or substitution of Collateral Securities by Goldman Sachs; only reinvestment of principal paydowns into new eligible Collateral Securities will be permitted.
- Goldman Sachs will enter into a CDS with the Issuer to buy protection on Reference Portfolio losses related to the Class A through Class D Notes.
 - The Collateral Securities and/or Eligible Investments will be available to make payments to Goldman Sachs in the case of writedowns or other Credit Events occurring on the Reference Portfolio, which in each case incur writedowns on the Class A through Class D Notes.
- Goldman Sachs will cover all upfront expenses of the Issuer through an upfront payment under the CDS.
- Goldman Sachs will cover all ongoing expenses of the Issuer through periodic payments under the CDS.

Credit-Linked Note Structure⁽¹⁾

Interest Payments on the Notes

- The Notes will pay interest monthly at the applicable Series Interest Rate, accrued actual/360 on the daily Outstanding Principal Amount of the Notes.
- Goldman Sachs will pay the applicable spread over LIBOR⁽²⁾ on the Notes to the Issuer via the CDS premium.
- Goldman Sachs will pay the applicable LIBOR² index on the Notes to the Issuer via the Basis Swap, versus receiving from the Issuer the interest collections in the relevant period paid on the Collateral Securities and/or Eligible Investments.

Credit-Linked Note Structure⁽¹⁾

Principal Payments on the Notes

- Any notional principal amortization on Credit Events are applied to amortize the Transaction sequentially.
- If notional principal is allocated to a Class of Notes, a like par amount of Collateral Securities and/or Eligible Investments will be liquidated to fund a payment of principal to such Notes.
- Goldman Sachs writes a par put (the “Collateral Put”) to the Issuer if Collateral Securities are liquidated in order to fund:
 - Cash settlements to Goldman Sachs under the CDS;
 - Principal amortization of the Notes reflecting principal amortization of the Reference Portfolio; and
 - Optional Redemption of one or more Classes of Notes.
- The Collateral Put will not be exercisable upon the occurrence of a Mandatory Redemption of the Notes.
